Introductory Collaborative Practice Workshop

The Collaborative Law process is at the cutting edge of dispute resolution practice today, with an emphasis on problem solving, neogotiation and co-operation to settle conflict.

The non-confrontational nature of Collaborative Law enables Lawyers working with other professionals and their clients to respectfully resolve disputes and stay out of Court.

The Happy Family Lawyer

INTRODUCTION TO COLLABORATIVE PRACTICE

TWO DAY WORKSHOP

This workshop has been designed to provide you with the basic knowledge needed to assist clients in collaborative matters. The two day workshop will consist of both interactive presentations and role-plays, designed to allow participants to gain experience at each stage of a collaborative matter and provide you with the skills you will need to run your own collaborative matters.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The training will be beneficial for Family Law professionals new to collaborative practice or wanting to add collaborative practice to their skill set. The workshop will also be of interest to:

- Family Lawyers
- Psychologists and social workers who work with children and couples
- Financial planners who wish to work with separating couples
- Accountants

WHY ATTEND?

Collaborative Practice is now a widely used form of dispute resolution for separating families. With the current legislative and market place focus on alternative, affordable solutions for separating families, Collaborative Practice is a much needed skill for any Family Law professional.

The Introductory program is designed to meet the standards detailed in the Law Council of Australia's "Australian Collaborative Practice Guidelines for Lawyers". It will also satisfy the professional requirements to be classified as a collaborative professional with the Queensland Collaborative Law Association and the International Academy of Collaborative Professionals.

CLARISSA RAYWARD

Clarissa Rayward, is the Director of Brisbane Family Law Centre and is also known as the 'Happy Family Lawyer'. As a Divorce Lawyer, Clarissa specialises in helping separating families stay out of the Family Courts and stay friends as she believes that a divorce can be a positive end to a marriage.

Over the past 13 years Clarissa has worked as a specialist family lawyer and in that time, has helped over 2,000 Australian families through their divorce. That experience has only reinforced her belief that traditional legal processes do little to help separating families find a positive future after divorce.

Clarissa Rayward is a family lawyer, wife and mum who is passionate about relationships, people and family. Clarissa uses her industry knowledge and skill to change the way Australian families experience divorce and separation. Clarissa is the Author of the book Splitsville - How to separate, Stay out of Court and Stay Friends. She is known as 'The Happy Family Lawyer' as she believes that your divorce can be something you can look back on with pride.
